

WM. J. BRYAN ON HIS WAY TO COAST IS INTERVIEWED

William Jennings Bryan, accompanied by his secretary and Mrs. Bryan, was in Ogden for a few minutes yesterday afternoon, arriving on Union Pacific train No. 67 and departing on Southern Pacific train No. 54. The former secretary of state was escorted into the city by G. O. Brophy, superintendent of the Wyoming division of the Union Pacific, who met the train at Devil's Slide. Mr. Brophy and Mr. Bryan had been friends for years, having become acquainted in Omaha when the great commoner was elected to congress for the first time. The railroad official was also a delegate to the national conventions at Denver and Kansas City, at which Mr. Bryan was nominated for the presidency.

At the Union depot, the party was met by S. S. Smith, representing the Democratic party of Weber county, who has also long been a friend of the former secretary. The travelers immediately alighted from the train when it stopped at the station and Mr. Bryan was given a number of telegrams which had piled up at the local telegraph office pending his arrival. One of them was from President Wilson, which assured him of a fine welcome in San Francisco.

After reading the telegrams, the distinguished statesman and his wife started on a stroll around the terminal walks, both at the front and rear of the passenger station.

Mr. Bryan declined to outline any of his plans for the future, except to say that he was going to take a much needed rest, interspersing the rest, however, with activity along the lines of his ideas on peace questions. He also refused to comment on the latest developments in the European war or the Mexican situation, stating that comment of the character suggested would be in the nature of a prediction and that the making of predictions as to the outcome of international affairs was against his principles.

"I believe the people of the country, especially a part of them, are cognizant of my views on international questions," he said, "and to express them now would only be a reiteration of former published statements and an unnecessary waste of time."

"Anyone wishing to learn more of my views on peace questions, however, will not be disappointed if inquiry is made at the Commerce office in Lincoln, where pamphlets containing what I have to say to the public are obtainable and can be had for the asking."

OLD MAN IS ARRESTED WHILE SELLING MAGAZINES

J. E. Loomis, 72 years old, is to face a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses next Tuesday morning in the municipal court, a complaint against him having been sworn out this morning by Detective Charles Pincock. The aged man was arrested by the detective Thursday at a store near Five Points on a description given by a woman whose house he had visited and from whom he had secured $2.25 by alleged misrepresentations.

According to Detective Pincock, Loomis secured a copy of the Pictorial Review magazine, one of the "Fashion Book" and one of the "Fish-ten Magazine," for which W. H. Wright & Sons' company has the agency. His scheme was to visit private residences in the guise of a solicitor of subscriptions for the magazines. He visited one house too many times, however, and the matron, after paying him for a subscription and taking a receipt, telephoned to Wright's store and learned that the man had misrepresented himself. She then reported the case to the police, and Detective Pincock, after following several clues, finally located Loomis and took him in custody.

MEN WITH RAZORS ARE SENTENCED TO JAIL

Gus Kinney and J. W. Malone, transients, will pass the next ten and twenty days, respectively, in the custody of the city jailer as the result of their getting intoxicated yesterday. They were arrested on lower Twenty-fifth street by Patrolman William Brown and in the municipal court this morning it was learned that both had somewhat bad records and, in addition to getting drunk, were guilty of vagrancy. Several new razors, marked "Price, $3.00," were found in their possession and it was alleged that they had been trying to peddle them on the streets. The razors, according to Kinney, were purchased for $2.50 a dozen.

Joe Paul, an alleged drunk, and Herman Phippen, charged with fast driving on Twenty-fourth street, between Hudson and Washington avenues, each forfeited $5 bail. William Burk pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunkenness and had his trial set for Tuesday morning. J. Gibson, Peta Williams, Charles Anderson, Jimmy Kelley, J. P. Williams and Tom O'Neill—plain drunks—were given suspended sentences.

ARTESIAN WELLS ARE CAUSE OF A SUIT AGAINST CITY

The first suit against Ogden City for "tapping" the artesian water basin of Ogden valley was started in the district court this afternoon when George McDonald of Eden began injunction proceedings.

The plaintiff alleges that he owns property in the vicinity of the artesian wells which were recently sunk by Ogden City, on which he has had four artesian wells that have flowed about 50 gallons of water a minute until the city wells were dug last year, when they began to dry up and have now ceased to flow entirely.

Mr. McDonald in his complaint says that the artesian wells on his place are necessary adjuncts to his business operations as a butcher and dealer in meats and that by virtue of their ceasing to flow he has been damaged in the sum of about $10,000. It is maintained by the plaintiff that the artesian wells sunk by the city have tapped artesian water basin and that they are gradually exhausting the supply to the damage of himself and others in the valley. He claims that there are about 25 other artesian wells that have gone dry since the city wells began to flow.

He asks that the court issue an order restraining the municipality from keeping the artesian wells in operation and that the wells be plugged.

CARRANZA FILES FORMAL DEMAND

Asks State Department for Extradition of Huerta, Diaz, Mondragon and Blanquet.

CRIMES ARE ALLEGED

United States Attorney Ordered to El Paso to Prosecute Former Mexican President.

San Antonio, Texas, July 3.—An application to the United States for formal extradition of Victoriano Huerta, Felix Diaz, Manuel Mondragon and Aureliano Blanquet was filed with Secretary of State Lansing yesterday afternoon by Eliso Arredondo, confidential agent for Carranza.

The text of the application was received here this morning by wire. It calls the attention of the American government to alleged crimes committed during the February, 1913, uprising in Mexico City, and lays the blame for Madero's death to the alleged combination. It also asserts that they are planning another revolution and asks that they be detained and sent back to Mexico for trial.

Murdered Madero and Suarez. Washington, July 3.—Eliso Arredondo, General Carranza's agent here, said today he based the request for extradition of Huerta and other Mexican exiles principally upon the deaths of President Madero and Vice President Suarez.

General Villa also has asked for the extradition of Huerta in proceedings between the governor of Chihuahua and the governor of Texas.

More Arrests Made. El Paso, Texas, July 3.—General J. Caus and J. B. Ratner and Enrique Gorostita were taken to the federal building today by United States authorities. No charges have been placed against them, but apparently they are being detained pending investigation. Ratner is confidential associate and interpreter and Gorostita is a secretary to General Huerta.

Huerta to be Tried. Washington, July 3.—United States Attorney Camp at San Antonio has been ordered to El Paso by Attorney General Gregory to take personal charge of the government's case against General Huerta.

The administration has decided to prosecute Huerta for conspiracy to invite a revolution against a friendly nation. For the present no effort will be made to deport him as an undesirable alien. If a conviction is not returned, recourse may be had to the immigration laws. Officials here feel the case against Huerta is strong.

OROZCO ESCAPES FROM HIS GUARDS

Mexican Leader Held at El Paso by Government Has Disappeared.

Orozco, second only to Huerta in importance, appears to have disappeared. He is not in his house where six men have been guarding him. The authorities, however, have not yet abandoned hope of recapturing him, if he attempts to escape across the border to Mexico.

Orozco was arrested last Sunday with General Huerta on charges of conspiracy to violate the United States neutrality laws. He was placed under a bond of $7500. Notwithstanding his bond, federal authorities kept his residence under close watch. Word of his disappearance reached federal headquarters early today. Officers were rushed to the Orozco residence at 1291 Wyoming street. A thorough search was made but no trace of the former Mexican general could be found. While not definitely known, it was believed Orozco slipped away between midnight and daylight.
